First Nations Health Authority
Health through wellness

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Clinical Nurse Specialist, CD Management (Term)

Vancouver, BC with Telework potential

Do you want to join a passionate team who is dedicated to making a difference in the lives of First Nations communities in BC? In this role, you will lead the provision of expert nursing care by functioning as a clinical leader for the FNHA Communicable Disease program. This position utilizes advanced and in-depth knowledge and skills, clinical expertise, and advanced judgment to support, consult, educate and facilitate system change. You will provide leadership in development of clinical guidelines and protocols in the areas of general Communicable Disease, Communicable Disease Emergency planning, and Infection Prevention and Control.

By providing advanced consultation, leadership and expertise in CDC clinical practice, knowledge transfer through evidence informed best practices, research and education, you will contribute to positive health outcomes for BC First Nations communities. You will work with and support nurses, community health workers and communities by working with and supporting nurses, community health workers (CHWs) and communities to meet mandatory communicable disease (CD) programming requirements.

Education & Experience

- Master's degree in Nursing with acceptable specialization in CD Management
- British Columbia College of Nursing Professionals (BCCNP) Designation as a Practicing RN.
- Successful completion of approved public health nursing or CDC training or program.
- Five years of public and/or community health nursing experience, including three years of nursing experience in area of specialty
- Teaching and presenting to large and small groups of adult learners.

What you can expect from us?

If you are looking for a great place to work, where your contributions are valued, and truly make a difference, then First Nations Health Authority (FNHA) may be the place for you!

FNHA supports personal and professional growth, in-house training, a paid volunteer day, personal days and a unique orientation program. We offer competitive salary and extended group benefits packages, including a robust pension plan.

Leading with culture, all FNHA employees complete San'yas Indigenous Cultural Safety Training. We support our family to be leaders in wellness and all staff members develop a yearly wellness plan as part of their performance partnership and goal-setting.

For more position details and information about us, please visit www.fnha.ca

501 - 100 Park Royal South
Coast Salish Territory
West Vancouver, BC
Canada V7T 1A2

FIND PURPOSE BEYOND YOUR PROFESSION

At FNHA, you'll have the opportunity to contribute to BC's history. With a unique governing structure and mandate, our fluid work environment means you can play an active role in real change.

Our talented teams value respect and foster lateral kindness in their working relationships. Our holistic approach to wellness, based on First Nations teachings, is incorporated into all aspects of work culture. Where else will you get to create a personal wellness plan as part of your performance goals?

If you are looking for more than a job, come join the FNHA family.

Apply Online!
www.fnha.ca/about/work-with-us

Connect via phone or email:
Saaniya Aneja, Recruitment Specialist
778.867.7342
Saaniya.aneja@fnha.ca

Confidential Fax: (604) 913-6135

Please include "Self-Identified", if you are voluntarily identifying yourself as First Nations or Aboriginal.

The First Nations Health Authority is a diverse and transformational health organization of professional, innovative and dedicated team members and leaders.

The first of its kind in Canada, FNHA works as a health-and-wellness partner with BC First Nations to support self-determination and decision-making to improve health outcomes.