

York University

Faculty Lead, Black Community Health

Reference: 112175

Duration: Temporary Contract

Location: 4700 Keele Street, Toronto

York is a leading international teaching and research university, and a driving force for positive change. Empowered by a welcoming and diverse community with a uniquely global perspective, we are preparing our students for their long-term careers and personal success. Together, we can make things right for our communities, our planet and our future.

The Faculty Lead, Black Community Health serves in this capacity for the York University School of Medicine. The Faculty Lead, Black Health plays a critical role in advising on the integration of Black Community health content into the Undergraduate Medical Education Program (UGME). Working closely with faculty, staff, students, and community partners, this role ensures that the curriculum addresses the health disparities, cultural competencies, and historical contexts essential for improving healthcare outcomes for Black communities. Reporting to the Dean of Record, School of Medicine, this role will also collaborate with committee members to drive the development and delivery of inclusive medical education. The role demonstrates a commitment to promoting decolonization, diversity, equity, and inclusion in medical education and fostering a culture of excellence, professionalism, and lifelong learning.

To be considered for this opportunity, you will bring the following:

Education:

- Bachelor's Degree in related field
- Master's Degree in a related field.
- Regulated Health Professional (registered and in good standing with the respective College)

Please note: This position requires verification of required degrees, training and credentials.

Experience:

- 3 years of experience with community relations in Black communities and who, via experience and/or expertise in Black health issues, can provide guidance on curriculum, admissions and research. Lived experience strongly preferred.

Knowledge Requirements:

- Comprehensive knowledge of Black Community health issues, including health disparities, social determinants of health, and structural racism as they relate to medical education.
- Knowledge of community relations practices, particularly within Black communities, to support effective engagement and guidance on curriculum.
- Knowledge of curriculum design and assessment methods focused on cultural competencies and inclusive education.
- Awareness of decolonization, diversity, equity, and inclusion principles and their application in medical education.
- Knowledge of York University's mission and commitment to diversity and inclusive education.

For full position details, including skills and knowledge requirements, and to apply to this exciting opportunity visit the External Career Portal ( www.yorku.ca/jobs ) and refer to posting 112175.

We offer comprehensive benefits and access to superb educational and recreational facilities

Please apply online at: <https://rita.cegid.cloud/go/681a30946e59e8e7b08d953b/6815155c6e59e8e7b08d188d/en>